About Longevity Science

For decades, aging has been viewed as a “normal” process, with disease, frailty, and gradual decline seen as inevitable. Modern science now recognizes aging as a treatable condition.

Did You Know?

Research shows that less than 10% of chronic diseases are determined by fixed genetics. The other 90% are shaped by how we live—our nutrition, sleep, movement, stress, environment, and even mindset.

At RoseBar Longevity, we apply this powerful truth:

Your daily choices can influence how your genes express themselves. Through cutting-edge longevity therapies, personalized programs, and supportive lifestyle practices, you can activate your body’s innate healing systems.

About Longevity Science

Aging is Not a Destiny

Studies indicate that with the right interventions, both lifespan and healthspan can be extended. The future of longevity is personalized, preventable, and fully within our reach.

Step into a new era with Dr. Hyman's vision—a world where cutting-edge science empowers us to take charge of our health, extend vitality, and redefine the aging process.

How Do We Extend Health Span?

Most people spend the last 20% of their lives in poor health, but this is not inevitable. RoseBar integrates the latest science in nutrition, exercise, sleep optimization, stress management, and functional medicine to help reverse biological age and increase healthspan.

RoseBar®

Hallmarks of Aging

By addressing the root causes of aging and disease, we can prevent and even reverse many age-related conditions. Applied correctly, these longevity strategies can not only slow aging but reverse key biomarkers of aging.

About Functional Medicine

Functional medicine shifts the traditional disease-centered model of care to a patient-centered approach, focusing on root causes rather than isolated symptoms. It evaluates the complexity of biological networks and the interplay of genetics, environment, and lifestyle in chronic disease.

Key Principles of Functional Medicine Include:

→ Patient-Centered Care

Promoting health as vitality, beyond the absence of disease.

→ Science-Based Healthcare

Looking upstream to uncover genetic, physiological, and lifestyle interactions that drive illness.

→ Integrative Best Practices

Combining modern Western medicine with evidence based integrative therapies, including nutrition, exercise, advanced lab testing, and targeted supplementation.

→ B12
Enhances energy, mood, and cognitive function.

→ Glutathione
A powerful antioxidant for detoxification and skin radiance.

RoseBar Bespoke

A fully customized infusion based on your medical consultation.

Biohacking Therapies

Biohacking supercharges your energy levels and helps to optimize your wellbeing. These therapies allow you to hack the body's natural recovery system and unleash your potential.

Biohacking
Therapies

Hyperbaric
Oxygen Chamber
Therapy

HBOT is a revolutionary medical treatment where you lie in a controlled chamber breathing pure oxygen in a pressurized environment. This allows oxygen to be absorbed more efficiently into the bloodstream, activating longevity pathways to improve cellular function, reduce inflammation and promote healing.

Particularly recommended for injuries, mobility issues, anti-aging and overall physical and mental performance.

Regenerative
Ozone Therapy

A next-generation therapy at the forefront of longevity science, Ozone Therapy is delivered intravenously to enhance oxygen levels in the body—boosting energy, circulation, and immune resilience at the cellular level.

Its potent detoxifying effects help reduce inflammation, enhance the body's natural healing processes, and support immunity.

Administered intravenously or internally

Normatec Pressure Therapy

The gold standard in compression, Normatec stimulates circulation and supports deep lymphatic drainage—helping you feel lighter, re-energized, and restored. Particularly beneficial after long-haul travel, this treatment aids in reducing fluid retention and accelerating recovery.

Biohacking Therapies

ReGen Facial

This advanced treatment activates the regenerative power of your body's own platelet-rich plasma to restore skin health from within. Combined with medical-grade microneedling, the ReGen Facial supports your skin's natural repair processes—stimulating collagen, softening fine lines, and unveiling a radiant, youthful glow.

ReGen Hair Therapy

Effectively combat hair loss and promote regrowth with this innovative procedure which involves injecting plasma rich in platelets or autologous exosomes directly into your scalp, enhancing blood supply to damaged follicles to stimulate the hair regrowth.

Biohacking Therapies

Human Regenerator Therapy

A pioneering biofrequency treatment rooted in quantum cellular regeneration, this non-invasive treatment uses electromagnetic frequencies to stimulate cellular repair, boost ATP production, and restore energetic balance. Benefits include reduced inflammation and oxidative stress, enhanced immune function, improved sleep, mental clarity, and physical energy. Also supports pain relief, wound healing, skin health, and overall longevity.

Full-Body Cryotherapy

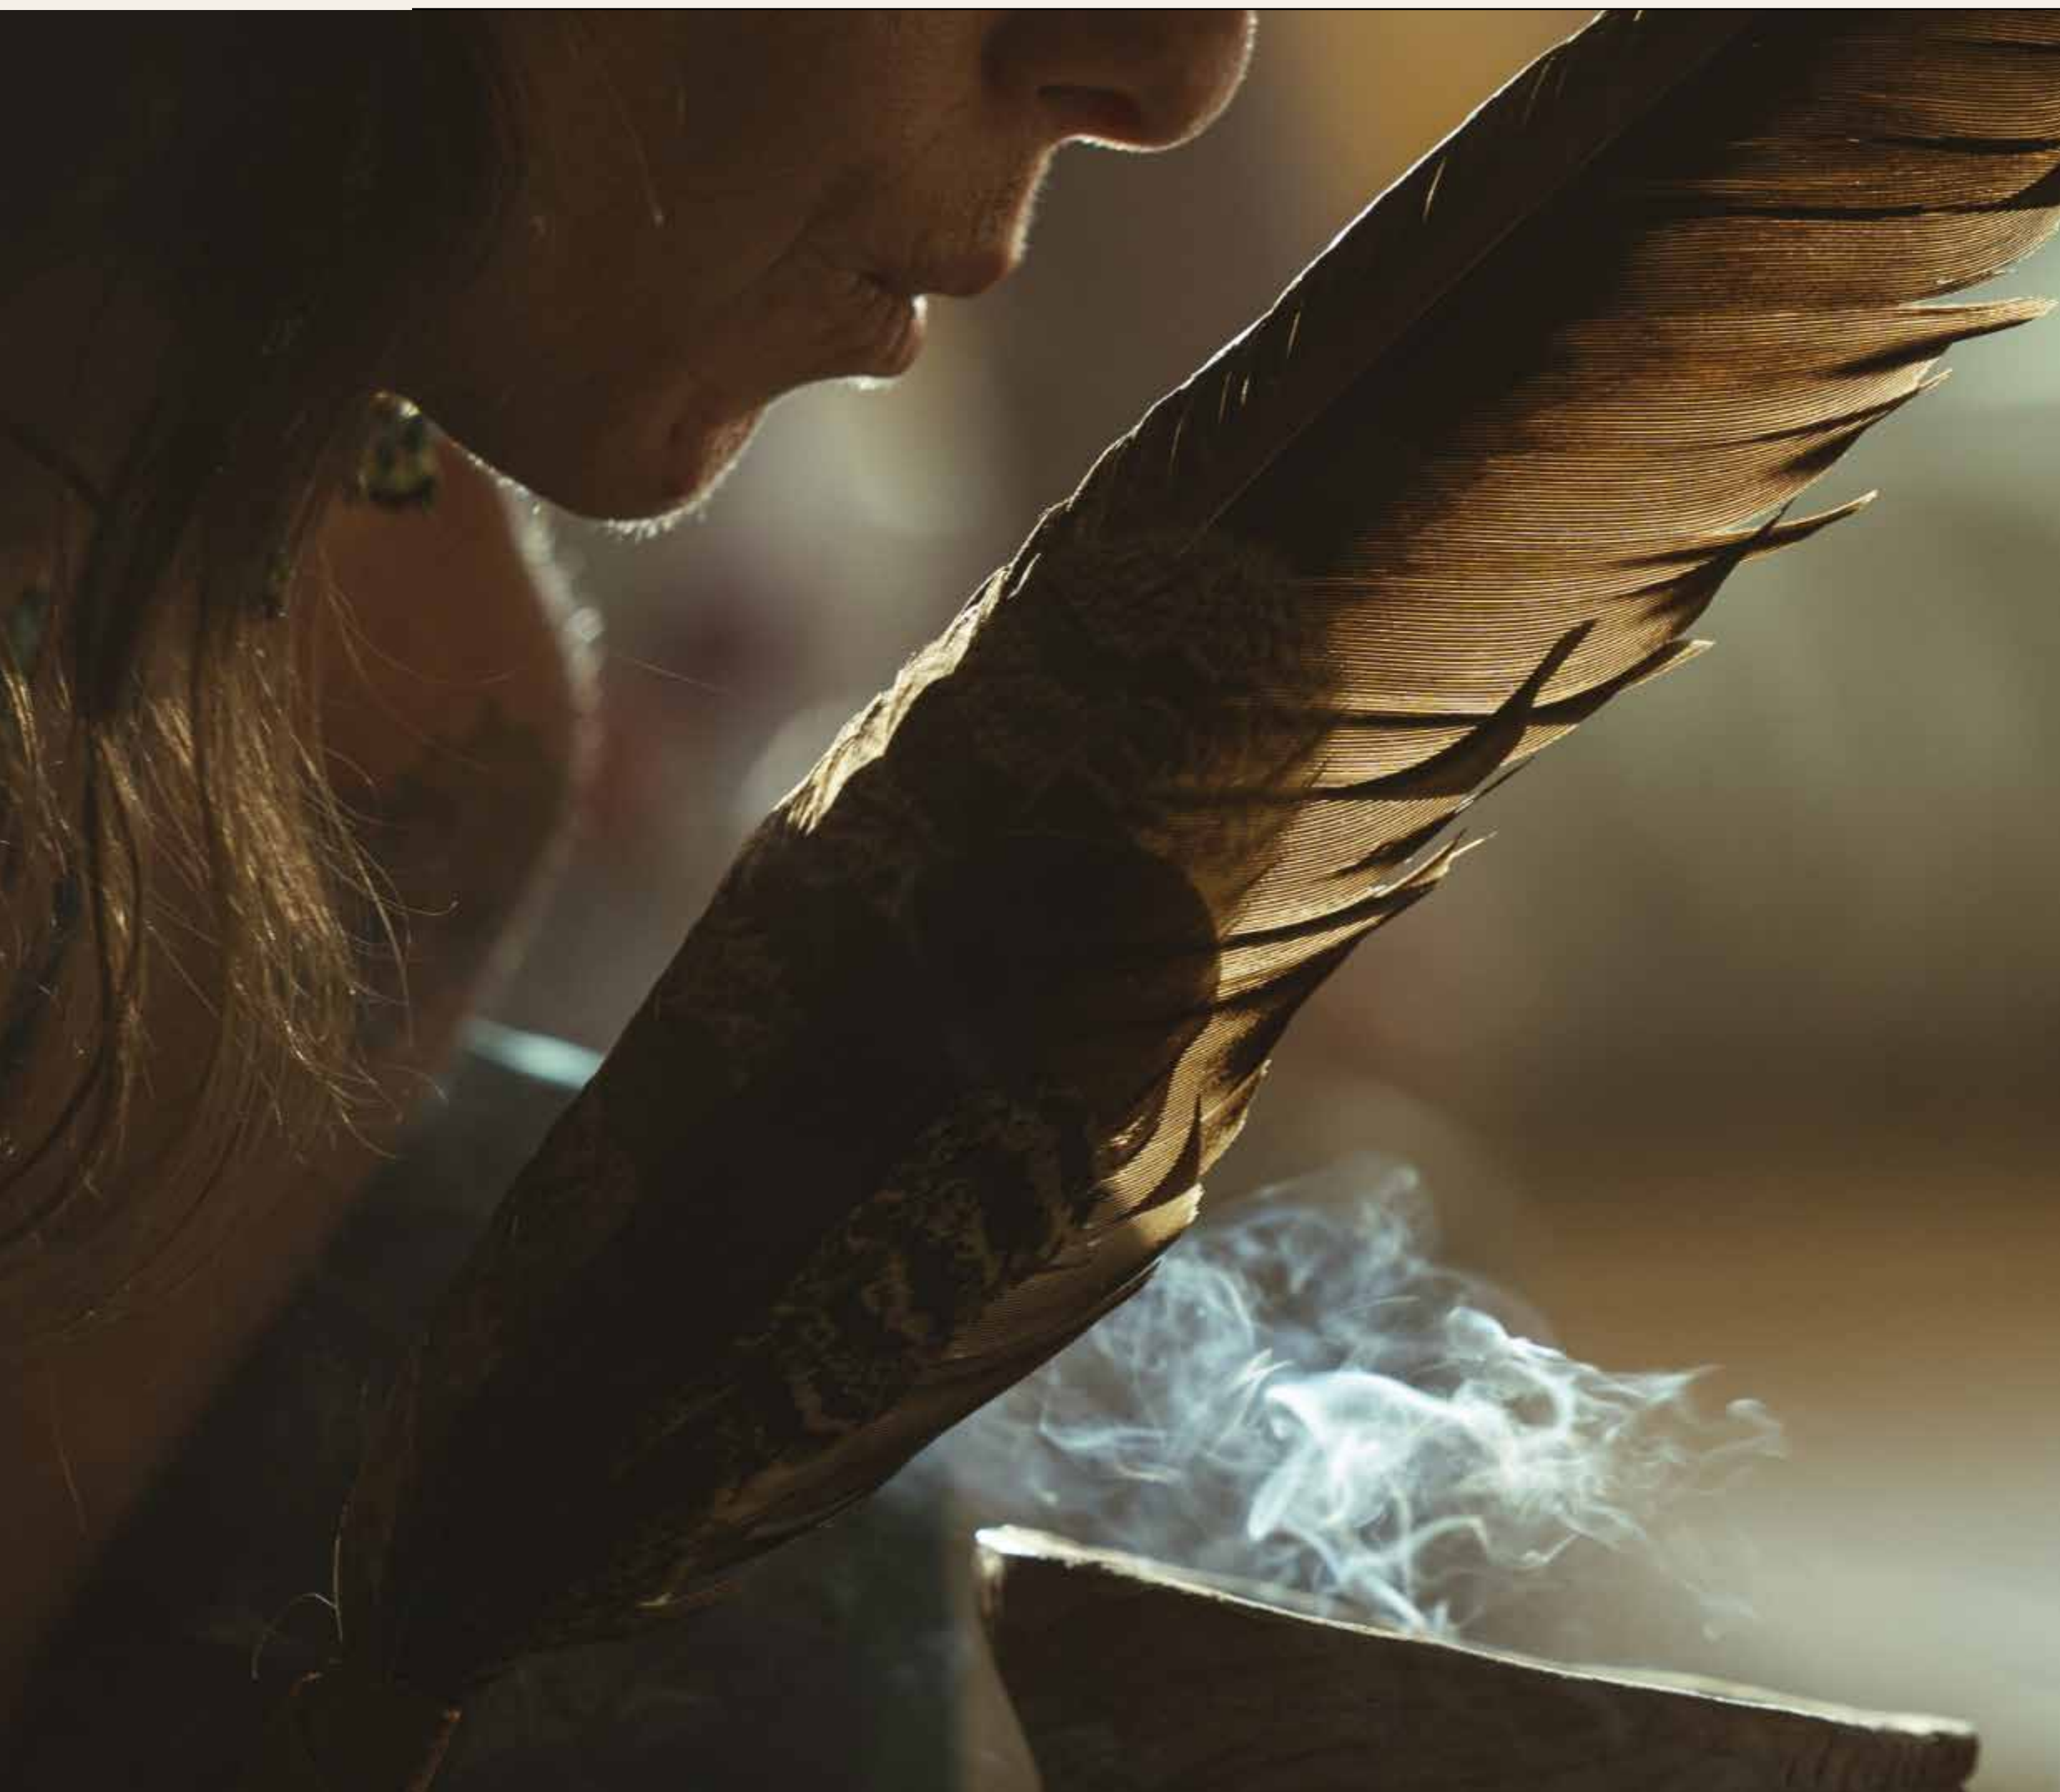

Cryotherapy activates your longevity pathways by increasing circulation and reducing inflammation. Enhance athletic performance, relieve muscle pain, reduce stress and anxiety by boosting dopamine and adrenaline levels.

Hormesis: Sauna & Cold Immersion

A circuit designed to build resilience, enhance circulation, and optimize cellular health. This immersion promotes detoxification and relaxation, accelerates recovery, boosts metabolism, and sharpens mental clarity.

Red Light Therapy

Photobiomodulation promotes cellular repair, accelerates healing, and revitalizes the skin from within using targeted infrared wavelengths. This therapy supports a healthy complexion and helps regulate the nervous system.

Spiritual Wellbeing

Spiritual wellbeing relates to our sense of life's meaning and purpose. Releasing tension, resetting the nervous system and letting go of past trauma is essential in promoting your health from the inside out to live a healthy, happy, long life.

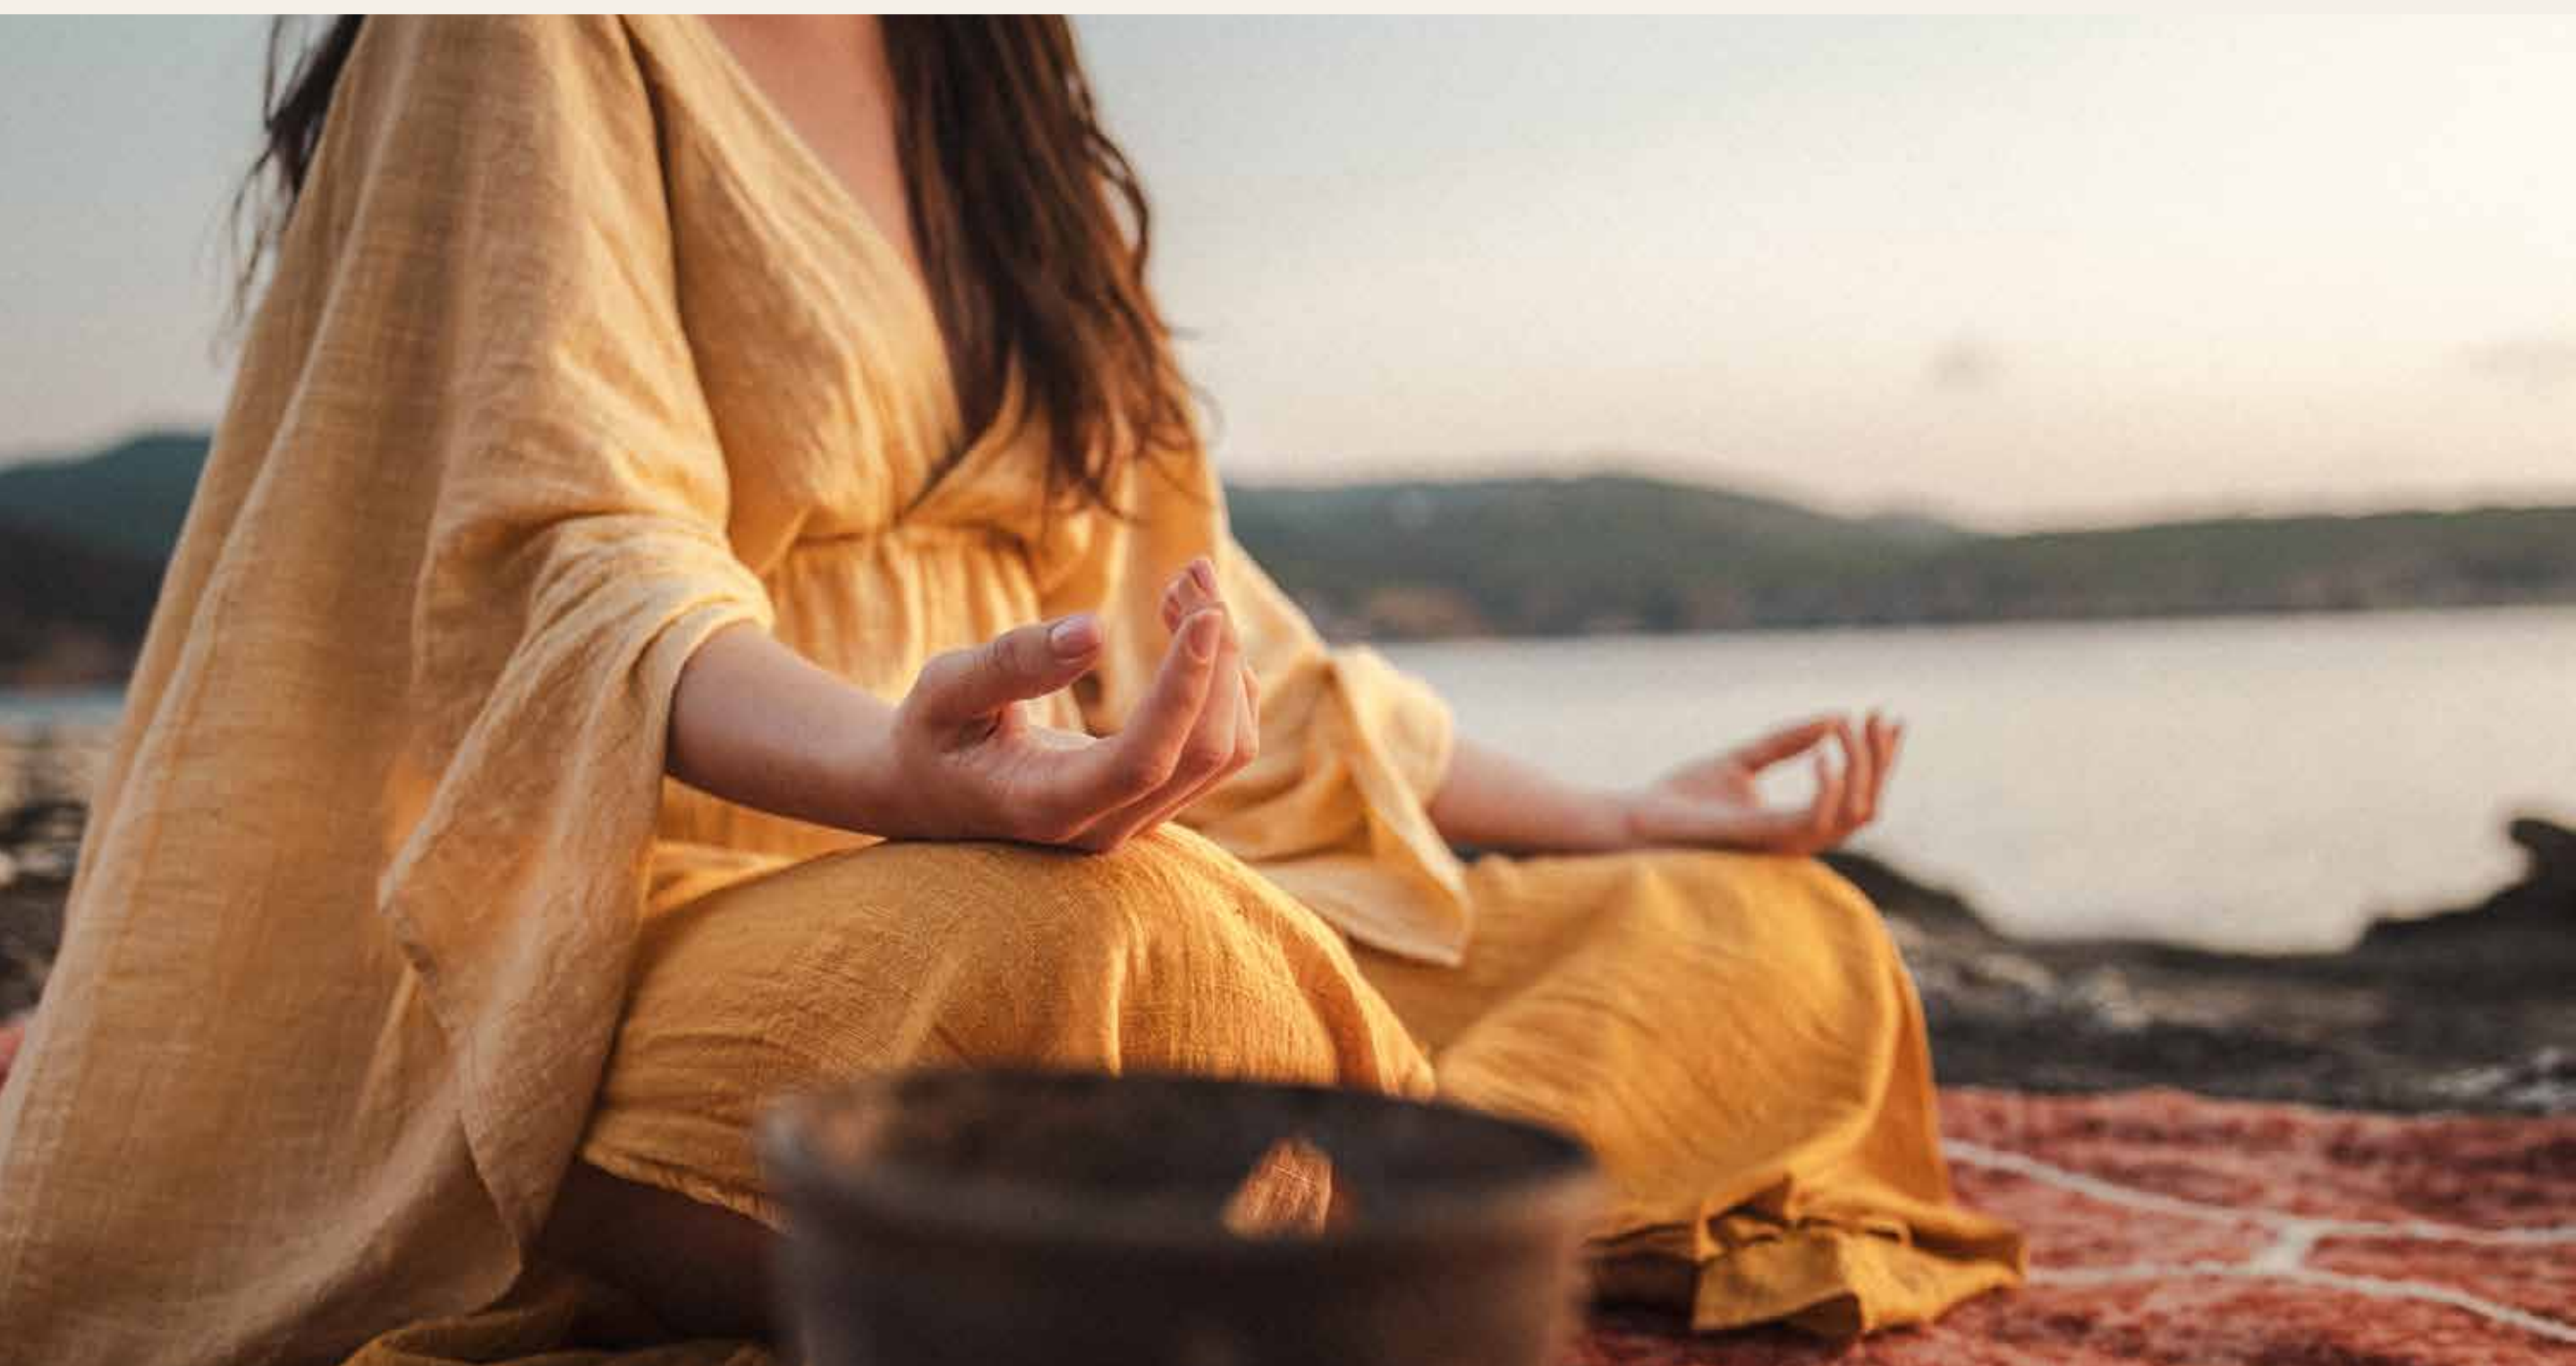

Spiritual Wellbeing

Expert Energy Medicine Consultation

A personal session with RoseBar's energy experts will guide you on this journey. Energy healing can be the basis to support you in your daily life by overcoming obstacles which manifest inside your body. Sessions may include somatic body work, energy clearing, shamanic work, guided meditation, therapy and breathwork.

Embodiment & Soul Alignment

A personal one on one session where you will gain profound insights into your inner self. The session will guide you to identify the blockages, resistance, and repressed emotions that may be hindering your path to living in your fullest power. Uncover the keys to unlock trauma and step into an empowered version of yourself.
